

72 Hours

What do you do when you see no way out?

After a failed suicide attempt, thirty-two year old William McHale finds himself in a psychiatric hospital for a 72 hour hold. Within the first day, he comes across a trio of odd characters: Jaws, a man who claims to see demons, Butterfly, a woman who refuses to take her pills in favor of hearing the voices in her head, and Minnow, a young woman who never speaks. Embarking on a journey filled with friendship, hurt, and understanding, William finds himself having to come to terms with the problems of his friends, as well as the problems that he himself has been trying to avoid.
