

Covenant Transformation (Dynamic Covenant Series) (Volume 2)

Fundamentally, a father is designated to reveal the fatherhood of God to humanity. God teaches us transformational principles about Himself through the multiple roles humans personify in their everyday lives. The essence of the father principle is about actually maintaining a presence in the earth through his children. And while fathers are being processed of God, the main reason for their calling and election must always remain the focal point of their development. This next chronicle in the Dynamic Covenant Series takes an intimate look at how fathers may not always measure up to righteous standards at all times. They may not even have the best of circumstances within their reach. But none of this can unselect them once the clarion call of the Sovereign one has marked them. This living seal of election must be communicated to each son, for it is a truth that resonates over and over. Fathers are not victims of arbitrariness or randomness they have specific moments that become LIFE CHANGING opportunities to transform.
