A child can be anything in life when the Gods deem it fit. This is what Yfel Basol learned quickly after being sold to a flesh trader. Finding happiness in life as a famed Arian would be more than she could bear as her first master, and first love, is murdered. Out of his death, she faces atrocities she can barely endure and knows all along her children are gone. To save them she must embark on a quest to not only save her children, but to also free the very people that hold her children as the ransom. A mother will do anything for her children, even if it means sliding back into the role of an Arian after being set free from the title. Perhaps just perhaps, in finding herself she can love again as well.
