

Brothers In Arms: An evocative story of T.A. trainings, active combat and life as a Prisoner of War in World War 2

An evocative story of T.A. training, active combat and life as a Prisoner of War in World War 2. A true tale, not of chosen heroes, but of the loves, hates, fears, pride, courage and endurance of ordinary men and women embracing the defence of Dunkirk, Prison Camps, Working Parties and the final march from East Prussia to West Germany during the winter of 1944-45.
