

Princess Nancy Cannot Wait for the Ball

Princess Nancie is so excited, there is a big party at the castle tonight BUT the party does not start for many hours Princess Nancie is getting very antsy, her arms are feeling dancy, and her feet are quite prancy. She really wants the Ball to start right away. She tries to sit on a chair and she tries to take a walk, but she just can not wait! Princess Nancie is so jumpy she knocks over the 999 suits of armor that line the castles main hallway. So Nancie cleans up her mess and because she is doing something else and her mind is off the dance, time starts to pass. Before she knows it the Ball has started! Princess Nancie learns a useful strategy for waiting and being anxious about something. Your kids will learn that even Princesses have to clean up their messes. The story teaches young children about the work/life. When your work is done it is time to have fun. Buy this story and read it with your little princes and princesses tonight!
