

Ordered to China

This volume was published in 1903 and contains letters of Wilbur J. Chamberlin written from China while under commission from the New York Sun during the Boxer uprising of 1900 and the international complications which followed. INTRODUCTORY NOTE It is with a degree of emotion which might not be quite understood by others, that I undertake the loving duty of writing a few words of introduction to this most interesting book. It was my privilege to know Wilbur J. Chamberlin, the author, in all his walks for many years. The familiar days and nights spent with him on many a newspaper field in the United States demonstrated his courageous, tender, faithful, and truthful soul. Only those thus associated with him could estimate his marvelous ability, or speak of the esteem and fondness in which he was held by newspaper men, statesmen, politicians, and all sorts and conditions of public men. His career reflected credit on his colleagues, whether on the New York Sun or on other newspapers. This book is made up of Mr. Chamberlains letters to his wife and sister while at Peking and other cities in China as the correspondent of the New York Sim. They breathe a humor distinctly his own; they attest unconsciously his probity of purpose; and they give a faithful and accurate insight into the everyday life and customs of the people with whom he dwelt in the Chinese Empire in the troublesome times which followed the Boxer insurrections. The qualities which make this book valuable are summed up in the editorial of the New York Sun of Friday, August 16, 1901, which said: Wilbur J. Chamberlin, who died on Wednesday at Carlsbad, was one of the best reporters that ever served this newspaper and its readers. His honesty of purpose, modest fidelity, clearness of vision, and power of graphic and accurate narrative were manifest in small things and in great; and the course of his duty in the last years of his life brought him into the presence of some of the most memorable happenings of the worlds recent history. Such men are the real historians. There is no higher journalistic function than that which Mr. Chamberlin performed for fourteen years on the Sim with entire loyalty to his paper and to his own professional and personal honor. Edward G. Riggs.
