

Valleys and High Places: Walking with God

Is God pleased with my walk with Him? It is a question that should be a part of our daily discussion with God. The question goes beyond the physical act of walking to encompass the mental and spiritual act of companionship with God. As we walk in the unity and fellowship of the spirit, we are to be pleasing to Him. The purpose of the walk is to follow where He leads us. Walking with God will eventually lead us to valleys, mountains, hills and high places as we grow in grace. Some walks will be pleasant, others challenging, maybe even dangerous. The valley walk will be different from the mountain walk. But the goal remains the same-walk in the unity and fellowship of the spirit. I will fear no evil for thou art with me... Psalm 23:4
