

The Girl On The Moon: A Diary

A diary; honest, edgy, raw and downright brutal. The Girl On The Moon is no exception. Our narrators life isnt exactly the way she had hoped it would be at age thirty. Shes found out her ex-boyfriend has gotten married, and she hasnt had a date in months. Shes living in a cramped apartment. Her mother has become a spectacle, her social life has dwindled down, and shes having panic attacks, and developed an obnoxious case of paranoia. Even Porkchop, her cat, seems to be judging her. It seems shes starring in a theatrical show as the character full of folly. She decides to take control of her life, and her self-esteem. But real life has ups and downs. Real life doesnt allow one to make mistakes without repeating humiliating history. Real life deals out cards we arent always prepared to play. As she moves through her journey she discovers feeling crazy seems to attract other crazy people like a magnet. Will she find herself? Will she find what shes looking for? Will she get it all and still have her sanity left when its all said and done? Leave your manners at the door. Everyone else in the diary has.
