

For the Love of Jazz

Restoration architect Josie Fagan takes on a project with lawyer and senators son, Patrick Pullman. Its the perfect match. She needs his endorsement to save her business and he wants to restore his ancestral Chicago home. Love wasnt part of her plan. Neither was being asked to stay at his home, haunted by ghosts, or discovering she has a claim to his home - which she adores. When she finds out his family may be responsible for her aunts disappearance fifty years ago, its a race to unearth the truth before she loses not only her business and her heart, but also her life. Patrick cant deny his attraction to Josie and is willing to take a chance on love since his broken engagement a year earlier. Things become complicated when he learns of their family connection and her claim to the home he loves. He doesnt believe in ghosts, or that his family is involved in her aunts disappearance, so insists they work together. But, when he starts seeing his uncles ghost, and threats are made on her life, hes forced to confront the possibility his family could be responsible. This is a new release of a previously published edition.
