

Living Lessons: My Journey of Faith, Love, and Cutting-Edge Cancer Therapy

State-of-the-art cancer treatment means looking beyond the status quo and this personal memoir tells the story of a man who is beating the odds against pancreatic cancer one of the most deadly cancers. Demonstrating that most fighters of the disease and their loved ones have no idea how to navigate outside the realm of conventional therapeutic measures, this narrative interweaves information on progressive, integrative remedies such as metronomic chemotherapy, naturopathic oncology, acupuncture, and more. Practical yet heartfelt, this is an inspiring autobiography filled with crucial messages learned through a remarkably challenging ordeal.
