

World Energy Directory: Organizations and Research Activities in Non-Atomic Energy (World Energy and Nuclear Directory)

The second edition of WORLD ENERGY DIRECTORY was published in 1985. The present edition - the third - has been substantially revised and contains details of research and technology laboratories in more than 80 countries. WORLD ENERGY DIRECTORY is a primary reference source providing profiles of industrial centers, official laboratories and major university or technical college laboratories which carry out, promote or fund research into the energy sciences incorporating coal conversion technology, solar collectors, wind power, geothermal studies, wave power, biomass conversion, magnetohydrodynamics, electrical engineering, electric generation and distribution and energy conversion.
